The affair was given under the auspices of Mrs. M. Corcoran and her sister, N. Coghlin, at their new home, selster, N. Coghlin, at their new home, who assisted Mrs. Corcoran were attired as Dutch serving maids. The house was harmoniously decorated with holly and ferns.

AVIATION AMATEURS TO OPEN SEASON JANUARY 1

The 1913 amateur aviation season will be opened by the boy aviation enthusiasts on New Year's day, when they will exhibit their model air craft at the Young Men's Christian association. There will be about twenty models in the exhibit, it is believed, and these will be given an opportunity to show their speed and dirisibility at an afternoon meet to be held soon after the exhibition.

The models to be exhibited are of two types, broadly speaking,—those which are copies of the man-carrying machines and those which are considered especialy for the purpose of flight. The motive power of the machines is furnished by rubber band engines with which every boy is familiar

H. D. Cross, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department, will have charge of the exhibition. The 1913 amateur aviation season

When Santa came to Councilman Martin Betkouski he stroked his whiskers and presented the councilman a small balloon, across whose surface was written, "Mayoralty Balloon." It was presented in the act of "going up."

Councilman Andrews, who, his friends say, likes to talk, was presented with an elaborate gag marked "Maxim Silencer." It had no effect in his address of thanks.

Arthur Letts and Rev. Wiley Phillips were good naturedly made the recipients of "long hair" wigs.

The big laugh came when a pair of silippers—retiring slippers Santa Forbes called them—were presented to Mayor George Alexander apropos of his recent announcement that the mayoralty is not for him again.

Paul Shoun of the Pacific Electric company smiled and blushed when an official looking document labeled "Twenty-one-minute franchise" was given him. Mr. Shoup has been laboring years for a twenty-one year franchise for his street car line.

There was a mayorality grab-bag at which all aspirants for the mayor's chair had a whack. After Thomas E. Gibbon, Lewis R. Work, Haines Reed Dr. John R. Haynes, Martin Betkouski and others had made their grabs and failed. Lucius Dale put in his hand and pulled out the plum.

President-elect Woodrow Wilson sent a patronage oie to the luncheon which was immediately cut and served out to the H. H. Cotton and Phil Stanton.

The school trustees' report follows:

The school trustees report follows:

To the Public-Noting in the evening papers the arrest of Prof. Percy Perviance for spying on some women in the Natick House, we deemed it our duty as the board of trustees of the Montebello high school, of which school Professor Perviance is the principal, to investigate the agair thoroughly.

of which school Professor Perviance is the principal, to investigate the agair thoroughly.

We accordingly examined the holes carefully and convinced ourselves that the holes were not bored with a knife as alleged, but with either a gimlet or a screw; that when Mr. Perviance was detained and searched no gimlet or screw was found on him; that in searching his room after he was detained no screw or gimlet was found with or among his effects. There was no possible chance for him to have disposed of the instrument which made the holes either before or after his detention; it therefore appears to us extremely improbable that Mr. Perviance had anything to do with boring the holes, we have arrived at this conclusion from a personal examination of the holes in question and from listening to the statements of Prosecutor Nimmo, Detective Varey and the clerk in the office of the chief of police, and a long, careful interrogation of Professor Perviance.

It is our candid opinion that Professor Perviance was unfortunate in being assigned a room adjoining the ladies who were witnesses in the Eddle case, and we believe that the holes were bored in the door not by him but by parties to unknown for the purpose of influencing public dpinion or possibly the jury in the case now on trial.

ney Alfred Bartlett for a writ of respect for what he possesses—only ambition to achieve as much as lies within my gifts and my resources for my city and for my fellows. I wish to pay my debt of duty to the community in which I have prospered and to help advance its interests. Here always shall be my home, and I consider it my obligation to help make Los Angeles a happier and cleaner and finer city, to which end I hereby propose to make another Christmas gift, a donation of $100,000 for a public observatory, to be erected on the highest point of land in Los Angeles-Mt. Hollywood, in Griffith park, and to be fully equipped on or before the by Trustees Board year 1915, and pray its acceptance at Approximately at $5000.

The gift was accepted by the council, which will confer with the Board of Education as to the best site for the proposed school, President Boyce having offered a choice of several sites.

Applause followed the announcement of the gift, after which the council unanimously adopted a resolution accepting the gift and extending a vote of thanks to the donor.

Colonel Griffith said he expected to Colonel Griffith said he expected to live to see the population of Los Angeles reach the million mark and then he hoped to be able to donate another $100,000 to the promotion of the city's interests and for the uplift of his fellow men. He also said that he understeed that the Pacific Electric was to ultimately reduce the carfare from the content of the colonial contents. ultimately reduce the carfare from city points to Griffith park to 5 cents.

and praising him for his former gifts of Griffith park and other land to the city. The mayor also pointed out the need of the city for a modern convention hall, and said that he "hoped some of the wealthy men present would see their way clear to emulate Col. Griffith and providing Los Angeles with an adequate convention hall."

Col. Griffith proposes to establish the observatory, not for scientific or research purposes, but to enable the citizens and children of this city to gain education and recreation without expense through the use of astronomical and associated instruments, together with motion pictures, which will display subjects of astronomy, physics, electricity, chemistry, blology, zoology, mineralogy, technics, history, art, sculpture, archaeology and portraits of the world's celebrities; also of buildings and scenes. In detail, there would be magnificent photographs of stardepths, the splendors of the Milky way, and of the sun and planets.

The value of the gift is placed having offered a choice of several sites.

The presentation was made on behalf of President Boyce by Edwin Christy, a representative of the building company, Mr. Boyce having been unable to reach the city hall in time for the presentation.

Suffragists Rejoice Over Catholic Aid

Local suffragists are rejoicing over word from New York this morning that woman suffrage has secured a powerful ally in "The St. Catherine Welfare association," an organization completed yesterday by influential Catholic women of that city for the purpose of acquiring the ballot.

The association will campaign for certain industrial reforms, especially in the conditions under which women work. To secure these, its members declare, the ballot in woman's hands is absolutely essential.

This new association intends to push its propaganda throughout the United States and to become a national organization.
